IBAS Presents - An Errors and Omissions seminar by Greg van Ginkel

FOUR (4) Technical Credit Hours

Seminar details:

Madness in Mistakes

No one likes making mistakes. However, mistakes are inevitable. The question is how can you minimize the number and the impact they have on the affected parties.

This seminar is specifically designed for Brokers. The discussion will touch on issues that create potential errors and omissions. Many situations of accepting liability are seemingly unavoidable because clients or underwriters insist on placing a broker in a position of no choice. We will talk about how to overcome those situations and create value for clients and underwriters. The knowledge gained in 4 hours will put you and your brokerage in a unique competitive position by being able to articulate why processes and procedures are better for both Insureds and Insurers.

The curriculum has been approved for E&O mandatory credit for Broker E&O insurance.

About Greg - AIIIC/CIP, CCIB, CRIS, MLI, B. Comm (Honours, Actuarial)

A seasoned insurance executive with 34 years as a local/international Broker, Greg has hands-on experience with business development, servicing client programs, formulating and syndicating complex programs and settling claims. Most importantly he has managed a very diverse group of people as a senior executive in two global brokerages and as an owner of his own Regional brokerage. In order to run a successful brokerage, education of people and implementation of workable processes are critical. Minimizing things that can go wrong is fundamental in helping people be successful.

Greg has taught for the Insurance Institute of Canada, has provided seminars for the Insurance Brokers Association of Saskatchewan and has been a regular speaker on many risk topics to Canadian Risk Management provincial chapters, Legal, Chartered Accounting, Architectural / Engineering and Construction groups across Canada. He is also an accredited course provider by the Insurance Councils of Saskatchewan.
